“Tunes in 3/2” with Becky Price.

Becky Price’s formal training was as a pianist, and she gained an honours degree in this from Cambridge. Her parents, however, were both folkies and in her final year she discovered a passion for the accordion, which has been her main instrument since then. She’s played with various ensembles, including “Hell said the Duchess” and “Broadwood”, as well as performing as a soloist. She is also a popular teacher!

Tunes in 3/2 were quite common during Playford’s time, then largely died out, but there’s been a resurgence of interest recently. During the workshop, Becky will be covering a selection of 3/2 tunes from 17th & 18thC English dance tune collections (including Playford), looking at the amazing variety of mood & style present within that particular tune type & thinking about appropriate left hand harmonies & techniques to accompany them.

Booking is essential as places are limited: Please telephone Roger Swaine on 01707 324413, or E-mail him on “roger.swaine1@btinternet.com” to reserve a place.
